NEW & IMPROVED - DUI FLX50/50 DRYSUIT

---

DUI's FLX50/50 Drysuit - the original hybrid of drysuits - is now even better!

As the undisputed leader in drysuits and diver thermal protection, DUI has been offering the FLX50/50 - the first hybrid of drysuits - for 15 years. Made with DUI's proprietary crushed neoprene CF200™ on the bottom and trilaminate material on the top, DUI's FLX50/50 has been the drysuit of choice for dive instructors, wreck divers, underwater photographers, shore divers and most any diver wanting maximum durability on the bottom and lightweight flexibility on the top.

The FLX50/50 is now even better with redesigned patterns offering better fit and comfort while maintaining all of the popular features. The new design focuses on the crucial transition between the two materials at the hips and waist. Here's what FLX50/50 divers told us about their suits:

The combination of the durable CF200 material on the bottom and the lighter, flexible material on the top is perfect for my type of diving. I have at least 3,000 dives on my FLX50/50 after ten years!

Rick R.

I love the fit and more warmth on the lower half, the flexibility of the top and the look of the FLX50/50!

Laura D.

I like the ruggedness of the CF200 bottom for shore, wreck and cave diving. The trilaminate top has the flexibility I need to help me reach my valves for technical diving.

Wendy Q.

Comfort!

Keith B.

I like the rugged bottom for working with students and moving around the bottom doing skills. The trilaminate top allows me flexibility and comfort.

Robert S.

It just makes sense! Most of the wear will be on the lower half, climbing in and out of boats and crawling up the beach with waves chasing your backside. Besides, I just look so cool in it!

Paul B.

It's the most comfortable drysuit that I have ever owned. It's like I'm not even in a drysuit. I LOVE MY DUI FLX50/50!

Jennifer C.
